Overview of Risk of Old Man-Made Slopes and Retaining Walls in Hong Kong

Wong, H.N. & Ho, K.K.S.

Abstract

This paper outlines the concept of quantitative risk assessment (QRA) as applied to landslides and presents the findings of a preliminary global QRA in quantifying the landslide risk of old man-made slopes and retaining walls in Hong Kong, based on an extrapolation of the available data on the slopes.